

training. CO.NZ

hello future

New Zealand is $115,000-$135,000, with Auckland and Wellington having the highest average salaries.

Experience and specialisation make you eligible for a higher paycheck. Whether you're spearheading defence strategies in a government role or revolutionising cyber safety in the private sector, your expertise is your key to success.

What job in cyber security pays the most?

Certain cyber security roles consistently offer higher-paying salaries. Penetration testers, information security managers, and chief information security officers often stand at the top of the list in terms of financial compensation. Penetration tester: $120,000-$170,000 Information security manager: $130,000 - $165,000

Chief information security officer: $210,000 - $260,000

We are using cookies to give you the best experience on our website.

You can find out more about which cookies we are using or switch them off in settings.

Accept